

DEEDS OF MUTINOUS SOLDIERS

Pillaged and Burned Sections of Peking Last Night

LARGE NUMBER DEAD

Reported Among Civilians and Soldiers—Loss From Incendiary Fires Placed at $20,000,000.

London, March 2.—A strong detachment of U. S. troops has been ordered to proceed to Peking from Tien Tsin immediately, according to dispatches today.

Peking, March 2.—The foreign ministers after a conference, have decided to bring in all troops stationed in the adjoining ports in China. It is expected about 1000 will arrive here tomorrow. The action is taken as a result of Commander Tang Shao Yi asking the Powers to take measures to prevent a loss of life. Foreign troops today attempted to enter the city of Peking, but the railroad was blown up and traffic stopped. Shuan Hai Chi's soldiers have killed many innocent persons passing on the streets of Peking.

Many missionaries have been slaughtered by the mutineers in Pao Ting Fu, according to reports today. Well-informed circles, however, believe only one or two have been killed. It is believed these were Roman Catholic missionaries.

Another gang of mutineers formed today and visited and looted a town 22 miles from the railroad to Tien Tsin. British troops guarding the railroad protected the women and children, but the mutineers looted and burned property and held up a passenger train, robbing the passengers. Yuan Ping Fu, where American troops guard the railroad, was also looted. The government is unable to cope with the situation and the foreign ministers are discussing concerted action. Yuan Shi Kai today promised stringent methods. The populace has been notified that all persons appearing in the streets after 8 o'clock will be arrested.

A serious recurrence of the disorders occurred this morning at nine o'clock, when a detachment of artillery, headed by a band of mutineers, marched to the home of the duke of Kue Hsian, father of the dowager empress. They tore down the gates, looted the property and burned a portion of the palace. Through the night the soldiery engaged in looting, but this morning are fighting mutineers in the outskirts. Any prisoners taken are summarily dealt with and beheaded. Headless bodies are lying in all the streets. All the streets shops have been looted and may set on fire. Civilians have armed themselves and barricaded their property. Barricades have also been erected in the streets for defense. The mutineers left for Pao Ting Fu yesterday. They looted part of the town and burned a number of houses. A large number were arrested.

Peking, March 2.—Mutinous soldiers last night pillaged and burned the extreme northern and western sections of the city which escaped in former orgies.

Advices from Pao Ting Fu state that the Sixth Division is out of hand. The soldiers are following the example of those in Peking.

Similar conditions are reported in the vicinity of Tien Tsin. The mutineers are threatening to attack that city.

These outbreaks are directly due to the recalcitrancy of the Nankin politicians in insisting that Yuan Shi Kai must take the oath of office there, thus delaying the formation of a responsible government.

The basic cause of the mutiny was a report that Yuan would leave for the South. The soldiers, expecting a disbandment or dispersal of their commands, decided to loot the city. The attitude of the Nanking leaders cannot be attributed to any other reason than the desire of the Southern politicians to save their own faces. Their quibbling has endangered the structure of the republic.

The sensational developments of the last two days serve to emphasize the deplorable weakness of the powers in dealing with the situation here. Their policy throughout has been based on the one hand, on the fear of offending the tender sensibilities of a few irresponsibles among the revolutionaries and on the other by mutual jealousies.

As far back as November, if the Powers had permitted the foreign bankers to make the desired loans to Yuan, a settlement insuring a stable government satisfactory to all the responsible elements would then have easily been reached.

If, as now seems possible, China is in for a period of chaos and anarchy, the Powers cannot escape the responsibility, local officials claim.

Desultory shooting by the mutineers continued throughout the night, and at this hour occasional shots continue to be heard, most of them in the distance.

The electric lights throughout the city were extinguished during the night and the streets were deserted.

The old style troops and police are guarding the city. They are not doing patrol duty, but lie in wait at various points for looters. The mutineers who remained in Peking after the first outbreak are being detained in barracks.

General Li Yuan Heng, commander of the republican troops at Nanking, who is interfering effectively with the Nanking government's orders, has telegraphed the republican delegates in Peking not to insist on Yuan Shi Kai proceeding to Nanking.

Yuan Shi Kai has telegraphed the officers at Pao Ting Fu, situated 70 miles southwest of Peking, to arrest or kill all the mutineers who went there by train from Peking.

None of the troops except the Manchus are to be depended on, and they evidently care only to defend the imperial and forbidden cities.

Ten looters captured in the act of carrying off property last night were executed on the spot by loyal soldiers, several regiments of whom are patrolling the streets.

The number of the casualties that have occurred among the civilians and the soldiers is believed to have been more than 200.

The Chinese troops at Feng Tai, a village 22 miles out from Peking, on the Peking-Tien Tsin railroad, mutinied yesterday. There was much heavy firing in the native quarter.

The foreign community, composed entirely of railway employees and their families, retired to the British military post near by, where 150 soldiers of the Somerset infantry are stationed to guard the railway line.

The telegraph lines toward the capital are badly crippled. Railway men believe that Feng Tai was looted during the night. All train service toward Peking has been suspended.

Some detachments of old style turbaned troops have been brought to the city, and it is reliably reported that Yuan Shi Kai is also bringing back the Manchus troops, who were recently ousted from the city because it was believed they were a dangerous element.

Yuan Shi Kai, it is alleged has been endeavoring to retain the loyalty of the soldiers in Peking by permitting his body guard to do as they pleased. Only a small body of Yuan Shi Kai's men now remain loyal to him.

The delegates from Nanking succeeded in escaping yesterday from the burning residences, where they were the guests of the city. They are now staying at a hotel in the legation quarter.

All the shops and houses are closed and long lines of carts continue to bring valuables into the legation quarter where they are stored in foreign banks and warehouses.

Space being limited in the legation quarters only a few of the better class of Chinese are being permitted to take refuge there. Many Christians, however, are being harbored in the mission compounds.

The situation in the Canton district has become distinctly bad. The British naval forces at Hong Kong have been strengthened by the arrival of the armored cruiser Australia.

A lighter belonging to the Japanese Mail Steamship Company lying in Hong Kong Harbor was attacked by pirates last night. They carried off silk to the value of $40,000 after binding the crew of 16 men left in charge.

Yuan Shi Kai has issued a note addressed to the foreign missionaries, merchants and other residents of the capital saying:

"The disturbance in the capital was quite unexpected by me and has filled me with sorrow. One of my chief duties is to preserve order in the capital, and in this I have hitherto been uniformly successful. Unto you who are strangers in a strange land I wish particularly to convey my sincere regret for the occurrence. Every measure of precaution has been taken now to prevent a recurrence."

A body of 1,500 mutinous troops commandeered a train and departed for Ho-Nan.

Dr. Sun Yat Sen was shocked when he received advices concerning the outbreak here, which he considers to indicate an entire lack of control by the authorities. He believes, however, that the outbreak will be brought under control by troops loyal to the republic. The War Office telegraphed the generals in Peking to demand that they maintain order.

Dr. Sun in an interview said: "The Nanking government surely can restore and maintain order in Peking and throughout China and also it can and will protect the lives and property of foreigners."

There is considerable uneasiness throughout the country. The troops at Wu Chang, Wuhu and elsewhere are demanding pay, but the authorities are apparently not able to control them.

The Nanking assembly is strongly opposing any foreign loans unless they are first approved by the assembly.

The situation in Peking is severely complicating matters in the entire south of China, which dreads foreign intervention for it is believed intervention will result in anti-foreign outbreaks.

MARYSVILLE GETS WOMEN'S REFORMATORY

Columbus, March 2.—Marysville was today selected for the proposed women's reformatory to be erected by the state. This announcement followed a conference between Governor Harmon and State Auditor Fullington. Secretary of Treasury Gray a member of the committee, was not present, but authorized the governor to act as his proxy in voting for Marysville. Secretary Shiner of the State Board of Charities, also a member of the committee, voted over the telephone. The site includes 260 acres and was purchased by the state for $115 an acre.

HOUSE OF PASTOR CONVICTED OF PERJURY, BURNS

Fl. Worth, Texas, March 2.—A few hours after J. Frank Norris, pastor of the First Baptist church, had been convicted on a charge of perjury his home was burned down last night. This came as a mysterious sequel to an unusually mysterious case against the saloon-fighting minister. The most sensational part of the case came when, accused of perjury, Norris was charged with writing letters to himself threatening his destruction. Norris first came into notice through his great efforts to enforce the prohibition laws. Then Norris said that attempts were being made to assassinate him, and this was followed by the destruction of the First Baptist church by fire. He then traveled about the country with a bodyguard.

MAN AND WOMAN ARRESTED AT UTICA CHARGED WITH PILFERING FARMERS' CORN

Utica, March 2.—It is thought here that mysterious visits of night prowlers to farmers in this vicinity who have been losing corn and other grains, has been cleared up by the arrest of two people, one of whom is a woman.

For the past four or five weeks a covered wagon has been leaving this city nightly, returning at all hours in the morning. Its mysterious actions finally began to excite comment. Word was sent to the city by Lee Rice, a tenant on the Eugene Harris farm, that the wagon and occupants were occupying space in his barnyard quite a distance from the house and that a man and woman were camping out in his barn.

The services of Constable Albert Vance and Special Officer P. M. Warner were enlisted and these two men with Mr. Rice, swooped down upon the outfit and gathered it in. It is said the wagon was loaded down with corn.

The man owning the outfit is alleged to be James Hoffman, a blacksmith of Mt. Vernon. The woman is Mrs. Amanda Hall of this place. They had their hearing before Justice of the Peace Toole Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

FEELING EFFECT OF BIG STRIKE

Ports of United Kingdom First to Suffer After Miners Went Out

MANY IRONWORKS CLOSE

And Work Along Docks Is at a Standstill—Ships and Rail- ways Hampered.

London, March 2.—The great ports of the United Kingdom particularly those situated in Wales, from which coal is shipped to every part of the world, and the centers of the iron and steel industries have naturally been the first to feel the effects of the strike of over 1,000,000 coal miners in England, Scotland and Wales.

Many ironworks in various districts were closed today and at Swansea and elsewhere the docks have come practically to a standstill. No vessels are arriving and the dockers and workers employed in the local industries have been thrown out of work.

Great crowds of these men gathered in the streets discussing the dispute. Thus far there have been no disturbances anywhere.

In South Wales, however, the mine owners are preparing for emergencies. They have had walls built around the mines and have laid in great stores of provisions in anticipation of a long siege.

The railroad and street car services in many cities have been still further curtailed today.

Only two small non-union mines in the entire country are still at work. One of these is in North Wales and the other near Berwick, on the Scottish border.

The tinplate workers of Wales are closing down rapidly owing to the lack of coal. Six hundred mills will be idle within a few days and 40,000 men who are employed there will be thrown out of work.

John Williams, labor member of parliament for the Cower division of Glamorganshire, South Wales and general secretary of the Amalgamated Society of South Colliery workers, told the Welsh miners at a meeting today that he expects a settlement of the strike to be reached by Thursday next on lines satisfactory to both the men and the employers. The prices of food are rising rapidly everywhere.

As a result of the coal strike all food prices were advanced today and it was predicted that before the end of next week a new cost of living record will be established.

Practically all freight trains were withdrawn today because the shortage in coal, and coastwise traffic was almost wholly abandoned.

Railroads today began commandeering all coal shipments. Many of them have only enough fuel on hand to last until the middle of the week when they will be forced to suspend operations completely unless they are successful in getting shipments from France and Belgium.

Within two weeks half of the industries in the United Kingdom will be closed down unless the coal strike is settled, according to word received today at the home office. Within a week, it was predicted a million additional men will be thrown out of work because of the closing down of the factories.

All the miners in the Lankashire district, non-union and union men, threw down their picks today and refused to work. The strike of the non-union men came as a great shock to the government, as it was believed that other unorganized workers will take similar action.

Another meeting between representatives of the miners and operators is scheduled to be held here Tuesday. Delegates are expected to have more power to arbitrate than at previous conferences, but little hope was expressed that a settlement would be reached owing to the uncompromising attitude of the South Wales operators.

Reports today were that in many sections the mine officials had been obliged to man the pumps personally to prevent the shafts from being flooded.

SHIPS TIED UP.

Glasgow, Scotland, March 2.—Fifteen thousand iron and steel workers were thrown out of employment today when mills closed down because of the coal strike. Thirty ships are tied up in the harbor for lack of fuel.

GORED TO DEATH BY ENRAGED BULL

Elyria, March 2.—An enraged bull gored to death George Hyman, 55, an inmate of the county infirmary today. Hyman had entered the infirmary to feed the animals when he was attacked.

$50,000 FIRE OCCURRED AT UTICA TODAY

Utica, Ohio, March 2.—The Central Window Glass Company factory here was destroyed by fire this afternoon entailing a loss of about $50,000. The Central Company was recently acquired by the Licking Glass company and two of the biggest stockholders are W. Henry McCann and O. H. Bemar of this place. A fireman named Randall was seriously injured while fighting the conflagration.

The fire of unknown origin, broke out in the cutting room, quickly spreading to the flattening room. The village department responded and worked hard to subdue the flames, but they soon consumed the main or blowing part of the factory.

The factory is a 36 blower concern and from 150 to 175 men are employed there. Mr. Randall, while fighting the flames was overcome by gas. He fell down a flight of stairs and received fatal injuries. He will probably not live throughout the day. The factory is partially insured, but the insurance is divided among a great number of companies. Only a few weeks ago the Advance

Glass Co., also of Utica, was destroyed by flames with a like loss of $50,000. The plant will be rebuilt in Newark.

FIRE DAMAGES PIANO PLANT

Springfield, March 2.—Fire starting in a furnace early today destroyed the finishing department of the Wickham Piano Plant Manufacturing company, just east of this city. The loss is given as $15,000 and 500 men will be thrown out of employment.

Wapakoneta: Clyde Wagoner, 12, near Santa Fe, will lose the sight of his right eye as the result of a game of mumblepeg. He tossed the knife into the air and the sharp blade struck his eye and almost severed the optic nerve.

PUPILS MAY GO ON STRIKE

Cleveland, March 2.—Thirty-five youths in the High School sent a communication to the school board announcing their intention to strike rather than attend the Detroit street school. The students complain that they would be compelled to pay street car fare and carry their lunches.

TRAP DOOR UNDERNEATH RUG WHERE STOLEN GOODS WERE HIDDEN BY THIEVES

Upon a tip turned up by Captain Chas. Swank, that officer with Pennsylvania Officer Stoffer, searched the home of "Red" Spickler in O'Bannon avenue last night and unearthed a large quantity of stuff which has been identified as having been stolen from Pennsylvania railroad cars in East Newark early in February.

Roy Spickler and Earl Rouse, two young men were arrested by the officers and slated at the city prison and county jail "held for investigation."

This morning Chief of Police Blizard and Officer Burke put the two suspects through a stiff cross examination and from them learned where a portion of the stuff was stolen.

Pennsylvania Officer Stoffer has been working on the car robbery for some time and while he had strong suspicions against the Spickler boy and his companion, the plunder could not be located.

Last Wednesday Patrolman Burke saw Roy Spickler and Earl Rouse on a street car with a suspicious looking bundle. The boys were allowed to leave the car without molestation, with the hope that they would cache the bundle in a hiding place that would reveal a large quantity of the other stuff. They did, but the "cache" could not be located.

Last night Capt. Swank got a clue which led him to believe that there was a trap door in the front room of the Spickler home. With Officer Stoffer he went to the house and found the clue to be straight.

The officers turned back the rug in front of the fire place and this revealed a nice job of carpenter work in the construction of the trap door. Beneath the floor the officers discovered a large quantity of Red Band tobacco, snuff, oleomargarine and a package containing a suit of clothes. The package was the same as that carried by Spickler and Rouse last Wednesday.

The tobacco and snuff was identified as that being stolen from the Pennsylvania company early in February. It was a part of a shipment from Fleek & Neal of this city to dealers in Port Washington and Uhrichsville.

The clothing was a part of a consignment addressed to J. G. Spyrus of Wellston, O. and according to the confession of Spickler and Rouse, this was stolen from a Hocking Valley freight car at a point south of Columbus last Tuesday night.

The men rode a freight to Columbus Tuesday afternoon and boarded the southbound Hocking Valley train. When this train stopped at a point south of Columbus, the boys found a car which they claim was partly opened and entered it.

In the car were a number of boxes with the lids off. These boxes contained clothing and Spickler and Rouse helped themselves. Spickler brought back a suit of clothing and this bundle was hidden near Union street under a railroad bridge where the boys returned on Wednesday afternoon to get the package.

The search Thursday night at the Spickler home failed to unearth the package though the officers found evidence of its presence in the house in the nature of wrapping which Patrolman Burke identified as having surrounded the suspicious bundle seen by him. Friday night however, this bundle was found.

After the finding of the bundle was told to Spickler and Rouse, they told where the goods had been stolen. Rouse got a pair of trousers which he was wearing while Spickler got an entire suit of clothes.

Pennsylvania officer Stoffer and the local police are still working on the case and expect further results.

HOUSE CAUCUS OF DEMOCRATS DECIDES ON INCOME TAX

Washington, March 2.—The house and senate leaders are discussing the sensational action of the house Democratic caucus in deciding on an income tax on all net incomes averaging over $5,000. That the house will pass the measure within ten days or two weeks was granted. Discussion is had as to how the bill will be received in the senate, where its fate is uncertain.

This excise bill is offered to be a substitute for the loss of revenue occasioned by the placing of sugar on the free list, and would probably bring in $30,000,000 a year. The plan of the Democrats took their Republican colleagues by surprise.

Senator Smoot of Utah, a member of the senate finance committee, declared that there would be no passage of the measure "I do not believe that any Republican senator, regular or insurgent, as well as that of any Democrat, would destroy this great industry."

Senator Kern of Indiana, former Democratic candidate for vice president, said that the measure was a good one. "For I am and always have been in favor of free sugar," he said. "I am very much in favor of an income tax, and I have favored it for years."

WINDOWS SMASHED BY WOMEN

London Suffragettes Cause Heavy Financial Loss by Their Action

POLICE WERE POWERLESS

Scores of "Smashers" Made Their Escape in the Crowds—Many Shoppers Badly Frightened.

London, March 2.—Emily Parkhurst, Mrs. Turkes and Mrs. Marshall, the three leaders in last night's window smashing campaign, causing a panic of terror among London tradesmen, were sentenced to two months imprisonment. They were the first of 124 women arrested in the recent demonstration and sentenced at the Bow-street police court today on charges of wilfully damaging property.

The attorneys for the proprietors of the store announced in court that the total damage done by the suffragettes would be estimated at $25,000 and that on behalf of the government the time had arrived to consider rightfully the demonstrations which heretofore had been shown leniency. The friendly audience so far present at most of the suffragette trials was absent and Mrs. Parkhurst and her partners were forced to face benches filled with sympathizers of the storekeepers whose premises they had damaged.

The sentence of the three leaders was greeted with applause.

Because the coal miners had been able to gain government recognition of their grievances by threatening the business of the country, the suffragettes yesterday afternoon also entered upon a policy of menace to trade. And they carried it out suddenly and with an order that resulted in heavy financial losses, brought consternation to merchants of the most prosperous shopping district of the city and paralyzed business. The police were taken entirely unawares, and before they were able to muster their forces and restrain the women, streets were covered with shattered plate glass from the show windows of stores.

It was a window-breaking expedition solely, and a thoroughly organized one. Hundreds of windows in many of the most famous shops in the world and in several government offices and clubs were wrecked by the suffragettes. The damage will aggregate many thousands of pounds, but it is largely covered by insurance against breakage.

One hundred and fifteen women were dragged to the police stations by police excited and indignant merchants. Many others, however, escaped. All those arrested were released on bail, coupled with promise to refrain from further window-wrecking.

Some shopkeepers who saw the storm coming were able to close their shutters and barricade their doors. The trouble centered about Trafalgar Square, ranged along the Strand, eastward and westward, and up Regent street, Piccadilly and Oxford streets, where are situated the fashionable jewelry and dry goods houses.

Mrs. Emmeline Parkhurst, the veteran of many a suffragette battle, struck the first blow. In an automobile, accompanied by Mrs. Marshall and Mrs. Turkes, she drove up to the premier's residence in Downing street at 6 o'clock. The three women leaped from the machine and drew out stones concealed in their muff.

Four windows crashed in before the police, who were constantly on guard, could reach the women. The trio were arrested, but while being led to the station managed to heave missiles through the windows of the colonial office.

Pandemonium broke out in the shopping district at the same time. Taxicabs were the favorite vehicles of approach used by the suffragettes and large numbers of innocent-looking women were helped out of them by porters stationed in front of the stores. There was no hesitation on the part of the women who at once attacked.

BANK ROBBER KILLED IN A PISTOL DUEL

Montreal, March 2.—One of five robbers who broke into the branch of the Royal bank at Montreal West, a junction of the Canadian and Pacific railroad, five miles west of here, was shot and killed in a running fight with the citizens. The report of the robbery got out before the men could get away with their loot and after a pistol duel four of them escaped, leaving the body of their dead companion.

SAGE TEA WILL DARKEN THE HAIR

Restore Faded and Gray Hair to Natural Color—Dandruff Quickly Removed.

There is nothing new about the idea of using Sage for restoring the color of the hair. Our grandmothers kept their hair dark, glossy and abundant by the use of a simple "Sage Tea." Whenever their hair fell out or took on a dull, faded or streaked appearance, they made a brew of Sage leaves, and applied it to their hair with wonderfully beneficial effect.

WINDOWS SMASHED

tacked the show windows with bricks or hammers. The surprise of the porters was so great that a majority of the miscreants were able to lose themselves in the crowds before the guardians of the shops could collect their senses and restrain them. The women who did not use taxicabs merely walked along the streets, cracking or smashing windows with hammers, while crowds followed them, cheering or shouting.

The police were wholly unable to deal with such a wholesale and widespread outbreak and at least nine-tenths of the window-attacking army escaped. The air was filled with sounds of police whistles, whistles, the slamming of blinds and shrieks of frightened shoppers, punctuated now and then with cries of "Votes for Women." Whenever a window was shattered, there the crowd surged, while the employers of the shops rushed to the street to prevent the unprotected goods from being stolen. Not even the establishments of undertakers were spared.

So systematically and quickly was the work accomplished that it was well over before police reserves could be called out.

Hundreds of extra policemen were on duty last night protecting the damaged buildings, while thousands of sightseers tramped the streets to view the havoc wrought by the women.

The suffraget leaders declare that it is their purpose to continue their campaign of window-breaking until, like the coal miners, they force the government to take up their claims for suffrage in order to protect business interests.

PROF. ANSPACHER IS FOR EQUALITY

Sociologist and Political Economist Makes Spicy Argument in Women's Behalf.

Prof. Louis Kaufman Anspacher, sociologist, playwright and student of political economy and ethics, writes as follows on the anti-suffragist.

It is a question of democracy. Either you're for it or you're not. If you're for democracy of course you believe a woman should vote. If you're not, for God's sake change your government.

The "anti" claims that suffrage will destroy the home. No, suffrage won't, but your present industrial system will. Women are being exploited under present conditions against men—sometimes against their own husbands.

A man goes to an employer and says: "I can't work for you for less than $1.75 a day," and the employer says: "All right, I'll get a 90-cent woman." And why? Because the woman has no organization, or a poor excuse of a union with no political force back of it.

This exploitation works out in hundreds of places in industrial New England, where the father stays at home and spansks the children while the mother takes her dinner pail to the factory to fill a cheap job. Someone's got to feed the babies.

The "anti" argues that suffrage will menace chivalry. What does the factory woman know about chivalry?

The "anti" would narrow a woman's vision to her own four walls. But how about your women who have got four walls? And your men, who are exploited so that they can't provide her with four walls? It's a mean, greasy ideal for any State to hold up to women—this idea of the four walls. We provide prisoners with better than that.

The "anti" argues that, given the vote, woman would shun matrimony. Suffrage would undoubtedly keep her from marrying the wrong man. You talk about the sacrament of matrimony! Why, the greatest monstrosity of the age is the commercializing of love. Women marry to be provided for, to earn a living in what they think the easiest way. Economic independence of woman is the solution to the whole awful matrimonial tangle.

The "anti" says that suffrage will destroy the material instinct. They put up the same argument when women first began seeking college education. It has been proved since that college women have 3-1-2 per cent, more and better children than other women.

Six million women are employed in the United States at an average wage of less than $6 a week. Think how many must be earning $2—not enough to pay room rent. And you expect these women to be moral? You might as well tell a starving man he should not steal bread as to tell one of these girls she shouldn't sell herself. You've got to get at the root of evil—the economic dependence of woman.

It is said woman has never done anything eminent to entitle her to the franchise. In democracy we don't need people who do eminent things nearly as much as we do people who can do common things conscientiously.—Woman's Journal.

BAD EGGS MUST NOT BE MARKETED BY LOCAL DEALERS

The local board of health has received from Sylvanus E. Strode, state dairy and food commissioner, a quantity of large placards bearing a "bad eggs warning" with the suggestion that they be furnished to the grocers and others who deal in eggs.

The placard states that it is unlawful to offer for sale eggs which are unfit for human food. The law describes as unfit for human food, any egg "if it consists wholly or in part of a diseased, decomposed, putrid, infected, tainted or rotten animal or vegetable substance" etc.

The department requests that all eggs be candied before being sold in order to avoid the penalties of the act and the local health officers have been asked to co-operate in the enforcement of the law.

According to the department, the greatest trouble is experienced with incubator eggs, those which have been candied and found infertile. Some dealers place these on the market for fresh eggs. Another source of trouble is the discovery by the farmer of hidden nests in the woods, a nest in the straw stack, and fresh eggs which have become mixed with partly hatched eggs. All of these evils tend to lower the average grade of eggs found on sale.

Printed on the card sent out by the department is a list of suggestions regarding the marketing of eggs. These suggestions follow: Provide plenty of clean, dry nests for the hens. Gather the eggs daily in cool weather and twice a day in hot or rainy weather. Do not wash eggs. Use the dirty and small eggs in a cool, dry place, which is free from odors. Don't sell eggs which have been in an incubator. Market your eggs daily, if possible; if not, every other day. Don't sell eggs which have been found in a stolen nest. Keep the eggs out of the sun when taking them to town. Don't keep eggs near oil, onions, etc., as they readily absorb odors.

DYSPEPSIA IS RELIEVED IN FIVE MINUTES

You can eat anything without fear of indigestion or dyspepsia, or that your food will ferment or sour on your stomach, if you will take a little Diapiesin occasionally.

Your meals will taste good, and anything you eat will be digested; nothing can ferment or turn into acid or poison or stomach gas, which causes Belching, Dizziness, a feeling of fullness after eating, Nausea, Indigestion, (like a lump of lead in stomach), Biliousness, Heartburn, Water Brash, Pain in stomach and intestines or other symptoms.

Headaches from the stomach are absolutely unknown where this effective remedy is used. Diapiesin really does all the work of a healthy stomach. It digests your meals when your stomach can't. A single dose will digest all the food you eat and leave nothing to ferment or sour and upset the stomach.

Get a large 50 cent case of Pape's Diapiesin from your druggist and start taking now, and in a little while you will actually brag about your healthy strong stomach, for you then can eat without the slightest discomfort or misery, and every particle of impurity and Gas that is in your stomach and intestines is going to be carried away without the use of laxatives or any other assistance.

Should you at this moment be suffering from indigestion or any stomach disorder, you can surely get relief within five minutes.

MGR. WM. DESHON WILL RETURN TO FAIRMOUNT W. VA.

The Auditorium theatre is to have still another manager this season. William Deshon, the present manager, has just announced his intention of returning to Fairmount, W. Va., his location before coming here.

Mr. Deshon during his stay in the city made many friends and it is with regret that they will see him leave. He and his wife will probably leave Monday for their old home. Mr. Deshon returns to Fairmount with the expectation of having the management of the new Clarksburg theatre erected, in connection with the Fairmount house.

Just who will succeed Mr. Deshon here is not known. But it is known to lie between Mr. Paul who is now in charge of the Fairmount house and who formerly managed the Orpheum theatre here, and a Mr. Narrington, now in charge of the Coshocton house. The new management will assume control Monday.

NEWBRO'S HERPICIDE

Did Not Disappoint.

Don't become discouraged simply because your hair falls and is thin, weak and wispy, until you have tried Herpicide. "I first began to use Newbro's Herpicide three years ago, after a spell of fever, which caused me to become almost bald. Herpicide soon restored the quantity and natural color of my hair. I feel lost without a bottle of Herpicide in the house." Thus Mrs. Anna C. Layne, 821 Second Avenue, Louisville, Ky., tells in her own words how she lost her hair and how she got it back. Mrs. Layne's experience has been duplicated a thousand times and can be repeated thousands more.

Newbro's Herpicide keeps the hair and scalp in a perfectly healthy condition. When the hair papilla has not been destroyed by the ravages of the dandruff germ, the hair will resume its suspended growth.

Newbro's Herpicide kills the dandruff germ and checks falling hair. The itching of the scalp stops almost instantly. Others imitate and make similar claims, but the original dandruff germ destroyer is Herpicide.

Applications of this wonderful remedy may be obtained at any good barber shop. Send 10c in postage or silver for sample and booklet to The Herpicide Co., Dept. R, Detroit, Mich. W. A. Brman & Son, are special agents and guarantee $1 size bottles.

STRANGE SIMILARITY

The strange similarity of names mentioned in Friday's Advocate, which W. C. Metz, Newark banker, had business dealings with W. C. Metz, Yorktown, Texas banker, is duplicated in the experience of State School Commissioner Frank W. Miller of Columbus, who went to St. Louis to attend an educational convention.

While there he met Frank W. Miller, state school commissioner of Arkansas. The men are no relation and had never met before. The Ohio commissioner found the Arkansas commissioner to be a progressive educator, much interested in what the Buckeye state is doing for its schools.

OPEN LETTER INTERESTING NOTES OF THE LOCAL Y. M. C. A.

FROM UNITED STATES MOTOR COMPANY.

Broadway and Sixty-First Street, New York, Feb. 28, 1912. Mr. Murray Connolly, Agent, 9 Elmwood Court, Newark, O.

Dear Sir:—In regard to the Courier, as requested in your letter of the 25th, would state that the Courier car has been manufactured for four years. First it was known as the Courier and built by Courier Car company of Dayton, Ohio, and then it became known as the Stoddard "20" in order that it might have an A. L. A. M. license, because the Courier company was owned by and a part of the Dayton Motor Car company.

Last year the rearrangement of the Dayton company in going into the U. S. Motor Co. prevented the wide distribution of the Courier, and so the car was taken to the Detroit factory of the U. S. Motor company instead of being built at Dayton.

It is not a new car although the Clermont model is a new model and is a decided improvement in many respects over the Courier cars made in earlier years. Many manufacturers change their models to some extent from year to year, and the Courier, Clermont of today is a much larger and more refined car than the Stoddard "20". It is built by the Brush factory, with workmanship which is the equal of that in any automobile plant. Everything is thoroughly inspected and has to be absolutely accurate to the thousands of an inch before being used in the Courier cars.

There is really no other car in the class of the Courier at the price and the size, which is so near the standard of the higher priced machines. Its chassis is superior in design and construction to those of cars selling for several hundred dollars more, and in body arrangement and equipment it is also in the lead. The self-starter, motor, top, prestolite tank, gas lamps, wind shield, etc., make the car a real complete automobile.

The reason it was moved from Dayton to Detroit was simply to facilitate its manufacture in large quantities, and it is only through the making of cars of this type in quantities that we are able to sell it at the price, $1,150 complete.

WHO ARE FIVE BEST BOWLERS?

The sporting editor of the Advocate has received the following query: "To decide a bet, will you please state through the columns of your paper who are the five best bowlers and the five best ten-pin bowlers. Please answer as soon as possible."

The Advocate has no means of knowing who are the best bowlers in the city. The only source of information which would be reliable is the official scores of the various bowling and quintet leagues of the city which have not been made public and will not be until the close of the season's schedule last of this month.

SHOULD START TO CLEAN UP THE PREMISES

The proposed annual "clean-up" day was discussed at the meeting of the Board of Trade Thursday night, but it isn't necessary to wait until that day to clean up the premises around the various Newark houses.

In fact, it would be wise to do this before the spring thaws set in. This winter has been unusually severe and the ground has been frozen solid for many weeks. The natural result has been a great accumulation of filth and dirt on the ground over the city, which must be necessarily soep into the ground when the weather breaks.

There is no doubt, but that this condition will be a serious menace to the public health, which can be largely reduced by cleaning up the premises.

The health department has already issued orders specifying a number of places that must be cleaned up at once. Several times the representatives of the department were met with the remark, "Oh, we are waiting for 'clean-up day.' Then we will do the work."

In these individual cases, the department ordered immediate betterment of the surroundings, without regard to any proposed "clean-up" day.

When the time for "clean-up" day comes, the people in West Newark, who last year were given permission to deposit rubbish in a depository east of Eleventh street and south of Raccoon Creek, on what is known as the Applegas property, will have to look for another location wherein to deposit the trash. The permit which allowed dumping of rubbish there has been rescinded.

AMUSEMENTS

Keyes Sisters Stock Co. Last evening the Keyes Sisters stock company presented "The Darling of Paris," a play dramatized from the French novel. The story deals with life on the Bourse, the Wall street of Paris, and is full of exciting scenes and strong climaxes. The gowns worn by the Keyes sisters were creations of the French modiste and caused a great deal of comment among the ladies.

Tonight the Keyes Sisters stock company will present for the first time in this city one of the best western dramas ever written, "The Pride of the Prairie," it being full of excitement with a good vein of clean comedy running through the entire drama and with Chester Keyes in the comedy role of Cotton, the lazy coon. Patrons can expect a pleasant evening's entertainment.

Press Agent Says: Nancy Boyer. Speaking of what has been accomplished in the elevation of the stage, it is a noteworthy fact that the Nancy Boyer company, in presenting the highest grade of plays that can be secured, have made high altitude in this, their praiseworthy efforts to give at all times nothing but what is clean, pure and wholesome.

The suggestive, immoral or trashy play finds no place in the repertoire of a highly successful company. The following list of plays shows to what extent the management has gone in its efforts to make the Nancy Boyer company the leader in all that is best in theatricals: "When Knighthood Was In Flower," Julia Marlowe's greatest play; "The Morals of Marcus," in which Marie Doro starred; "The Frisky Mrs. Johnson," formerly used by Amelia Bingham; "Beverly of Graustark," from the book of the same name, and others equally as good have made the name of Nancy Boyer synonymous with all that is good and elevating in play production.

On Monday afternoon "The Heart of Springtime," a play new to Newark audiences will be presented.

Aside from its interest as a play, the gowns worn by Miss Boyer are worthy of special mention. In the first act she wears a creation in pink crepe meteor, shaded into an American Beauty red, with black velvet as its only decoration; in the second act, one of pink marquisette over pink satin, finished with gold lace; that worn during the third act is of pur-

BOVINE DRAWN

The first number drawn was held by Mr. Edward Dudgeon, 169 Elmwood avenue, who was in the house and who claimed the bovine.

I have told you that you could not be cured—all I ask is just a chance to show you that I know what I am talking about. If you will just try it and I will send you a FREE TRIAL of my mild, soothing, guaranteed cure that will convince you more in a day than I could in a month. If you are disgusted and discouraged, I dare you to give me a chance to prove my claims. By writing me to-day you will enjoy more real comfort than you have ever thought this world holds for you. ## HEART AND HOME TALKS

BY BARBARA BOYD

Putting Threads Into Character. "HATE to pull out threads," said a young girl impatiently. "When my sister makes dresses, she always makes me pull out threads. And I just loathe it. It takes so long, and you never seem to be doing anything."

Looked at superficially, pulling out threads does seem insignificant. But looked at more deeply, such work looms large with import. It isn't the actual pulling out of the threads that counts. But it is the patience and thoroughness, we build into our character by pulling out threads, that is the real work we are doing.

We all pull out threads of one kind or another, because we all need to learn these lessons. But after we have learned them, we go on to bigger work. And if we refuse to learn them, we'll never be capable of doing the finer tasks.

The big things of life call for patience and strength and thoroughness, and we are weaving these into our character and making it able to do the work that waits for us, when we are pulling out threads. And if we do not make ourselves do it, the work will be passed on to others, and we will miss some of the rich gifts life intended for us.

So we should not grumble when the great Schoolmaster sets us the task of pulling out threads, but rather rejoice at what this signifies. It means that there is big work waiting for us when we are ready for it. So we should jump cheerily into the task of learning our lesson, and master it as quickly as possible. When we can take up any piece of insignificant and unpleasant work and do it carefully, thoroughly, without grumbling, without really feeling any vexation or irritation at having to do it, we have learned the lesson that has been set us. And such work really must have no power over us at all. We must be indifferent to it, be able to rise above it. It must be unable to prick us in any way.

And when we have arrived at this state, rest assured, bigger work will be given us. We will pass on to something that is joy to our soul.

Barbara Boyd.

Look over the Wants tonight.

Daddy's Bedtime Story

How a Nice Little
Dickie Bird Won
A Good Home

"Oh, mamma, see; the little bird is speaking to us!"

JACK and Evelyn were yawning and daddy said that as soon as they had had their story both of them must go off to bed.

"Tonight I am going to tell you about a homeless little bird named Dick."

"Dick had never had a home. He was hatched out of an egg in a long low room where there were hundreds of other canaries. The older birds gave the young ones lessons in singing, and Dickie soon picked up all the trills and quavers and could sing a very merry little song. Then one day Dick was put into a little wooden cage all by himself and taken away from the long room full of canaries where there was singing all day, and he never saw it any more."

"By and by, when the cover was taken off his cage and he could look around, he was in a little glass room along the sides of which were shelves where stood many cages of birds."

"Ferns and palms waved their bright green leaves in the warm air and the sunshine poured cheerily in from outdoors. In and out through the open door passed ladies and little girls, some of them bearing parcels, for the glass room was only part of one of the big city stores."

"So the very next lady who came in with a little girl saw a little yellow bird hop to the side of his cage with a little 'chip-cheep' and with a claw grasp the side of his cage so that he could fly himself to one side and get a good view of them out of his beady little black eyes."

"The little girl cried: 'Oh, mamma, see; the little bird is speaking to us!'"

"Then Dickie began his very liveliest song."

"A very clever bird, mamma," said the young man of the shop. "Just call him by name and he'll answer you."

"Oh, what is his name?" cried the little girl.

"It's Dick," replied the young man. And so it was and also the name of every other one of those three dozen yellow canaries."

"But Dick was a gentleman, and when the little girl called 'Dick, Dick,' he replied with a polite 'chip-cheep-cheep,' which the young man told them was the bird's way of saying 'how do you do.'"

"Oh, mamma, you just must get him for me," the little girl insisted. So there was nothing for the lady to do but to take out her pocketbook and say that Dick must be sent right home."

"And so he was, and now he lives in a delightful sunny window where he has jumps of sugar and bits of apple and fresh lettuce leaves."

"And so he was, and now he lives in a delightful sunny window where he has jumps of sugar and bits of apple and fresh lettuce leaves."

Supt. Hawkins spent most of the week at St. Louis, attending the superintendents' meeting, a branch organization of the National Educational Association.

The High School paper, the Revue, was distributed this week. The paper contained good, up-to-date reading matter.

Since the Zanesville debate takes place next Friday night, the pupils of the school are intending to practice songs and yells next week. Judge Sater of Columbus and President Peirce of Kenyon College (the third not yet having been selected) are the judges for the debate.

The attendance this past month dropped to 95 per cent, but the tardiness was decreased, there being only 25 cases. The former was due to much sickness.

The announcement on Wednesday morning in chapel concerning the promotion of a few fortunate favored boys didn't seem to enter anyone's cranium until later in the day.

The lecture given by Dr. H. V. Adams Wednesday evening caused many people having dyspepsia to receive a cure.

An athletic association has been formed in the High School, with 130 members. The officers are to be selected this coming week.

The report cards, very often missiles containing much woe, will go out next week.

The board of education has provided spring water for the High School.

The rearrangement of the pictures of the High School has been begun by the Art Committee.

The Seniors have entered into a contract for the rental of caps and gowns for commencement week. Heretofore black has been the color used, but since this is the standard for colleges, it was thought best to adopt a gray color, something that has been used by High Schools but a short time.

PRECAUTIONS TO PREVENT SPREAD OF TYPHOID FEVER

Unusual precautions will be taken this spring and summer to prevent the possible spread of typhoid and other contagious diseases, according to a statement of Health Officer Knauss today.

Already orders have been issued to the milk dealers that the rooms where milk is handled either for bottling or aerating, shall be effectually screened to exclude the flies.

This is the most common source of contagion through milk and other food supplies, and the experience in the past month and that of last fall has led the department to start an early campaign to guard against such an outbreak of the disease.

Heretofore the authorities have had little difficulty in getting the milk dealers to conform with the regulations of the department, and little trouble is anticipated in having the new orders carried out.
